Contrato Postdoctoral

Laboratorio de Glicosistemas
INSTITUTO DE INVESTIGACIONES QUÍMICAS
CSIC, SEVILLA

Se ofrece un contrato postdoctoral hasta el 31 de diciembre de 2013, dentro de la Red

de Investigación de Reacciones Adversas a Alergenos y Fármacos (RIRAAF)

Proyecto (RD12/0013/0016) financiado por el ISCIII

Research Contract in Dendrimer-Based Drug Allergy Studies

A position in the field of the synthesis of dendrimer based antigenic structures is open in our research group, the "Biomimetic Dendrimers and Photonic Laboratory" at the Department of Organic Chemistry in the University of Malaga-Spain to work in the Andalusian Centre for Nanomedicine and Biotechnology, BIONAND. Information about the current research of the group can be found on the following

PhD. Thesis Position in Supramolecular Chemistry

A fully funded position to carry out a PhD Thesis in the field of Supramolecular Chemistry is available at IQAC. We are looking for outstanding candidates interested in molecular recognition, preparation and study of foldamers and Dynamic Combinatorial (Covalent) Chemistry (DCC) methods.

Marie Curie Initial ITN "GLYCOPHARM" Early Stage Researcher position (3-year contract) in Computational Chemical Biology

GLYCOPHARM is focused on the training of young researchers in Glycosciences, a dynamic research field under development, with a remarkable biopharmaceutical potential.

We are seeking enthusiastic and self-motivated scientists with good theoretical and practical learning skills, able to think independently and effective at team work. The 3-year contract will start immediately with the plan to obtain the PhD.

Scientific Manager

We are looking for a senior Scientific Director, who will lead the R&D area of an advanced Technological Centre specialized in High Performance Textiles and Organic Electronics (Printed Electronics), with proven experience managing R&D teams, both in private companies and/or universities, especially leading multidisciplinary teams in complex projects of international prominence. We value who has a doctorate degree as well as a research profile and papers published, which allow becoming a natural leader of scientific team, and at the same time, having the ability to drive the team to maximize achievements and performance. It will be highly valued having a research track record with public recognition within his competence, and simultaneously a consolidated network of contacts in the knowledge transfer function and in the industrial sectors.

Postdoctoral position for the European project Eco2 CO2

Date Posted: 01/02/2013

Application Deadline: Open Until Filled

Excellent opportunity to work in a leading scientific centre with dedicated professionals.

Offering outstanding career development and professional support in close relationship with industrial partners inside an European project.

Join CTQC - modern technological industrial research platform.

Noticias

"Los Premios de la RSEQ en Angewandte News".

The Real Sociedad Española de Química (RSEQ; Spanish Royal Society of Chemistry) has recently honored several chemists. We congratulate all the recipients and feature a selection of them here.

Nazario Martín (Universidad Complutense de Madrid; UCM) has been awarded the "Premio a la Investigacin y Medalla" (Research Award and Gold Medal). Martn, who was also honored with the "Premio de Investigacin Jaime I", was recently featured in this section when he was announced as EUChemS Lecturer.[1]

The Bruker Prize in Physical Chemistry was awarded to Josep Maria Poblet (Universidad Rovira i Virgili de Tarragona). Poblet studied at the Universidad de Barcelona and obtained his PhD (awarded in 1983) under the supervision of Enric Canadell. He carried out postdoctoral research with Marc Bnard at the Universit Louis Pasteur, Strasbourg in 1984. He joined the Universidad Rovira i Virgili in 1986 and was made Professor of Physical Chemistry in 2001 and Director of the Physical and Inorganic Chemistry Department in 2011. Poblets research is centered on theoretical inorganic chemistry, with particular interest in the molecular modeling of molecular metal oxides (or polyoxometalates), endohedral metallofullerenes, and other carbon nanoforms. He has reported in Chemistry—A European Journal on polyoxopalladates.[2]

4ª Edición de los Premios Senent (Grupo de Didáctica e Historia)

El Grupo de Didáctica e Historia de la Física y la Química de las Reales Sociedades Españolas de Física y Química convoca la 4ª Edición del premio

"SALVADOR SENENT", patrocinado por el Foro de Industria Nuclear Española, consistente en 800€ y un diploma acreditativo.
